

Lee Clow began his career in 1977 at Chiat/Day. In 1982 he became Creative Director of the Los Angeles office and two years later he was named president, Chief Creative Officer of Chiat/Day/Mojo.

Many consider his work for Apple Computer, Nike, Nissan, Pacific Northwest Bell, Pizza Hut and Porsche to have helped create a new counterculture and state of mind in advertising.

His agencies' Apple Computer "1984" spot is heralded as an all time classic.
